LETTER FROM THE LAWN CHAIR

BY MAC McDonald

Welcome back from another HOT and stormy summer. Welcome to all our new neighbors and to all the new students in our neighborhood. There are changes all around us. Many homes are being modernized and new families are moving in. There is a lot of construction going on and more people are discovering what a great area this is to live in and enjoy. The City of Phoenix has been improving our area by replacing old infrastructure, resurfacing streets, upgrading signage and reminding some of us to take better care of our properties and alleys. With the rebuilding of the Creighton School Campus we are welcoming many new students to our school while they await their school to be completed. It's exciting!

The Loma Linda Neighborhood Association has been a key part of our neighborhood for over 25 years. During this time I have witnessed the dramatic growth and achievements in the area. It is only the start. Over the years many many people have contributed countless hours and energy to organizing yard sales, doing alley clean-up, social events at the school, persuading the City to add a new Fire Station, block parties, attending zoning hearings, obtaining City Grant funding for Neighborhood Safety, helping with food drives, managing a Web Site and compiling, folding and delivering this Neighborhood Newsletter. Many of your neighbors have been doing these things for us for over 20 years. Some have moved away, some have passed on, and some have health conditions which make it difficult for them to continue. We have decided to employ a service to deliver the newsletter door to door and the School will send a copy home with each student. We hope that this will make the information available to all our community and the only thing I ask of you is to read it and give any recommendations on ways to improve it. All information will also be available on the web site lomalindaneighborhoodassociation.com and many communicate regularly on lomalinda.Nextdoor.com.

PLEASE attend our next Association General Meeting SEPT 11 at the Multipurpose Room Loma Linda School on the Fairmont side at 6:00 PM

BECOME INVOLVED — IT IS YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD, Thanks MAC

Play It Safe

School is back in session

Parents and kids: now that school is back from summer break it may be a good time to review some SAFETY concerns with your children.

- Coach your kids to pay attention to their surroundings
- When riding the bus, be on time! Wait with the other kids.
- Watch out for each other and be careful of passing traffic.
- Teach your kids to wait till the bus driver tells them it is safe to get on or off the bus. Check backpack straps and jackets to avoid getting caught in doors.
- Remind them that visibility around the bus is very limited and they must look both ways when exiting or walking around the bus. NO RUNNING!
- Listen to your kids if they report any bullying or other disruptive activities on the way to and from school. TAKE THEM SERIOUSLY and report actions to the school
- If no one else is home when your child gets home, make sure they go inside and lock the door. Tell them NEVER open the door for a stranger or tell a phone caller they are home alone. Make sure they know how to use 911 and have a contact number for you or someone close if anything is wrong. If possible have them call you every day when they get home.
- Monitor texting activity.

BE INVOLVED WITH YOUR KIDS!

It means a lot.

Stay Safe Around Water

Swimming is one of the most popular summer activities in Phoenix. Below are some tips to keep yourself, friends and family safe around water this summer.

Make Water Safety Your Priority

Swim in designated areas supervised by lifeguards. Always swim with a buddy; do not allow anyone to swim alone, even at a public pool or a lifeguarded beach. Ensure that everyone in the family learns to swim well. Enroll in age-appropriate Red Cross water orientation and Learn-to-Swim courses.

Never leave a young child unattended near water and do not trust a child's life to another child; teach children to always ask permission to go near water. Have young children or inexperienced swimmers wear U.S. Coast Guard-approved life jackets around water, but do not rely on life jackets alone. Establish rules for your family and enforce them without fail.

Prevent unsupervised access to water by installing and using barriers around your home pool or hot tub. Safety covers and pool alarms should be added as additional layers of protection. Pool barriers should enclose the entire pool area, must be at least 4-feet high and have gates that are self-closing, self-latching and open outward, and away from the pool. The latch should be high enough to be out of a small child's reach. If you have an above-ground or inflatable pool, remove access ladders and secure the safety cover whenever the pool is not in use. Remove any structures that provide access to the pool, such as outdoor furniture, climbable trees, decorative walls and playground equipment. Keep toys that are not in use away from the pool and out of sight since toys can attract young children to the pool.

Learn What to Do in an Emergency

If a child is missing, check the water first. Seconds count in preventing death or disability. Know how and when to call 9-1-1 or the local emergency number. Enroll in Red Cross home pool safety, water safety, first aid and CPR/AED courses to learn how to prevent and respond to emergencies. The best thing you can do to help your family stay safe is to enroll in age-appropriate swim lessons. Contact the Training Support Center at 1-800-RED-CROSS or support@redcrosstraining.org.

HELP A NEIGHBOR THIS HOLIDAY SEASON

By Eileen Wells

Let's celebrate the holiday season by supporting one of our own families in the Loma Linda Neighborhood. This tradition of supporting our neighbors during the holidays has been a tradition for many years. We uphold each other!

As we enjoy the holidays with family, good friends, great food and cheer, we can rest assured that we have taken care of one of our own brothers/sisters, and most importantly, the children in our neighborhood. It's a great and easy way to make an impact that counts during the holiday season.

We will be publishing a list of the recipients ages and wish lists on Nextdoor in early December. Be on the lookout and please participate.

New teacher for our Garden

New to the staff of Loma Linda School this year is Tim Moore, the school's first part time Garden Teacher. The garden and orchard have been created through community and volunteer involvement and contributions, and have been very much valued and appreciated. Now building on that investment Loma Linda will have an Teacher who will be guiding the students learning in the gardens with daily classes that will teach how to grow, eat, and share fresh fruits, vegetables, and flowers with their families and community.

Mr. Moore grew up on a farm in the Midwest, and his family grew hundreds of pounds of fruit and vegetables every year. Moore started teaching gardening on the Akimel O'otham (Gila River) Reservation at Gila Crossing Community School, where he developed an award winning program earning the support of the school board and Tribal Council. The school garden partnered with Kai Restaurant at Wild Horse Pass Resort to create a signature dish named for the school garden. Mr. Moore was able to teach entrepreneurship, nutrition, and healthier eating habits, and was able to send thousands of plants home with neighboring members to encourage gardening and healthy eating in the surrounding community. Mr. Moore hopes to work with the administration, staff, and volunteers to repeat and build on these successes at Loma Linda School. Come by and tour the gardens and see what is growing at our school.

Loma Linda Neighborhood Association: MISSION

The Loma Linda Neighborhood Association is dedicated to providing communication, beautification, social activity, coordination and education. We hope these efforts will promote cooperation among residents and foster good will in our neighborhood.

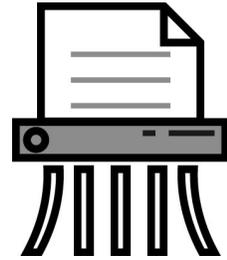

MEET THE NEW VICE PRINCIPAL

Mr Joshua Briese is the new Assistant Principal at Loma Linda School. Coming from Oregon 13 years ago he has adapted to Arizona, however, he still claims to be a Desert Duck as he attended the University of Oregon for both his Bachelors and Masters degree. Josh will admit he supports AZ Pac12 teams unless they are playing the Ducks. He was previously the Instructional Coach at Excelencia Elementary School. He has been with the Creighton School District since 2006 serving as a classroom teacher, mentor, and Teacher on Assignment. Mr Briese obtained his Masters Degree in Teaching and Learning in 2005 and a second Masters in Leadership and Supervision in 2013. Additionally, he is a graduate of the Creighton Leadership Academy as well as a recipient of the Rodel Aspiring Principal Award.

Mr Briese's role at Loma Linda will be to support the learning environment by working with students and families as well as teachers and staff. Ensuring a safe environment for the learning community is his top priority. This year Loma Linda has received around 220 students and a number of teachers and staff from Creighton School while their campus is rebuilt. Mr Briese wants to make sure all of our new community members feel welcome and a part of the Loma Linda family. One of the initiatives this year is Loma Linda University which is a program that occurs during school hours and reaches the students through mind, body and social emotional learning. Mr Briese will be at the forefront of this initiative, making sure all pieces fit and work for everyone.

Importantly, Mr Briese is all about community and family involvement. "I believe the neighborhood school should be a focal point of the community and a meeting place for everyone to enjoy." With that being said, he would like to encourage the neighbors to involve themselves with the school. This could be through volunteering, enjoying or assisting with the Garden or the Orchard, facilitating or attending a weekend class on campus, or using the playground or fields for exercise and fun. More to come on this later. Feel free to contact Mr. Briese with any questions, comments, or set up a time to come for a school tour. He can be reached at jbriese@creightonschools.org.

2018 Creighton School District Maintenance and Operation Override Factual Information

District Overview

Established in 1884, the Creighton School District serves approximately 6,400 students in nine K-8 elementary schools. The district employs 840 staff members, buses students more than 200,000 miles per year, and serves 2,000,000 meals annually. At Creighton our vision is to inspire Adventurous Thinkers, Collaborative Learners, and Kind-Hearted Leaders.

The district was recently recognized by the Government Finance Officers Association for Excellence in Financial Reporting for its comprehensive financial report (CAFR). The Certificate of Achievement is the highest form of recognition in the area of governmental accounting and financial reporting.

In addition, the district was also recognized by the Association of School Business International with a Certificate of Excellence in Financial Reporting for the fiscal year ended 2017. This award represents a significant achievement and reflects the district's commitment to transparency and high-quality financial reporting.

Revenue Sources

The district receives money from several sources: the state and federal governments, local property taxes and grants. Under state law, the district may spend the funds in two ways.

Maintenance and operations funds are used for running the schools including employee salaries and benefits, utilities, classroom supplies and transportation.

Capital funds are used to build and equip schools, repair and upgrade existing buildings, buy school buses and purchase technology.

Budget Override Frequently Asked Questions

What is a Maintenance and Operation Override?

A Maintenance and Operation Override allows school district voters to approve additional funding for operational expenses. The override would allow the district to exceed its budget by 15 percent. If approved, the election authorizes an increase for seven years, but the override must be renewed every five years to maintain full funding.

Has the district been operating under a Maintenance and Operation Override?

Yes, Creighton School District has been operating under a 15 percent Maintenance and Operation Override authorized by voters in 2014.

What does the override pay for?

Increasing and/or maintaining access to:

- Full-day kindergarten
- Art, music, and physical education
- Opportunities for gifted students
- Supporting competitive salaries to attract and retain teachers and staff
- Providing supplies and materials for classroom instruction.

The override funds school safety, including:

- Assistant principals
- Nursing and custodial staff
- Supervisory Aides
- Expansion of transportation through unsafe zones.

What will the Maintenance and Operation Override cost me?

For your personal tax impact, check your tax bill. The owner of an average home in the district pays $200 a year.

Will I have to pay additional taxes if the Maintenance and Operation Override continuation passes?

No, the estimated secondary tax rate for the proposed Maintenance and Operation Override is approximately equal to the existing secondary tax rate for the current Maintenance and Operation Override.

How much does the district have to cut its budget if the override fails?

If the override is not continued, the district will need to reduce its budget by approximately $1,588,235 million for each of the next three years for a total reduction of $4,764,705 million.

How will the override appear on my ballot?

On the ballot it is referred to as a "BUDGET OVERRIDE CONTINUATION."

What is the difference between a bond and an Maintenance and Operation Override?

A bond provides the district additional funding to use for capital items such as new buildings, additions or renovations to buildings, school buses, equipment and technology. Creighton voters last approved a bond in November 2016. A Maintenance and Operation override is for day-to-day operational expenses including salaries and benefits, classroom supplies, utilities and transportation. Creighton voters approved the current Maintenance and Operation Override in November 2014.

Why doesn't the district use the bond funds or school tax credit donations for the needs funded by the override?

State statute dictates how various funds can be spent by a school district. The district is not permitted to use bond funds or tax credit donations for classroom salaries and benefits, programs or training.

Loma Linda Neighborhood History

From the book Small Town in a Big City

By Blanche Duggan

After World War II, returning servicemen found our Phoenix to be the ideal place to live and raise their families. Jobs were plentiful, land was cheap, and there was an abundance of mortgage money. Many of them chose to live in our Loma Linda community and establish their futures here.

This was county then, out of the Phoenix City limits, mostly farmland with a few houses. There was much anticipation as the area was being subdivided and lots being sold. Everyone was working together, clearing their lots with hand tools and wheelbarrows. Building was booming with new developers and builders moving in.

Roads were few except for the main roads, such as Indian School Road, Thomas Road, 16th Street and 24 Street. Osborn Road was a two lane dirt road that ended at the canal, as there was no bridge across the canal. Twentieth Street went to Osborn until the mid-1950s, then was extended South to the canal when the subdivision was built by Dennis Homes. Twenty-second Street went from Indian School to the canal. It was divided by an irrigation ditch from Indian School to Liberty Street (now Clarendon), with pecan trees from Liberty to Osborn. Clarendon was "Liberty Street" West to 21st Street and ended there. Fairmont was "Piccadilly Street." Indianola was "Independence Street".

There were no bridges across the Grand Canal at 20th Street or Osborn. The canal bridge on 20th Street was built in 1965 extending 20th from Osborn to Thomas, despite objections of the residents who felt it would bring too much traffic through their neighborhood. The bridge on Osborn was built in 1950 and reconstructed in 1965.

The area was not yet part of Phoenix, so there was no Fire or Police protection. There were no street lights or sidewalks and few telephones. Our early residents were supplied water by means of wells using underground water belonging to the Salt River Valley Water Users, which was shared by two or three families. Since there was no city sewer system, neighbors had to share cesspools and septic Tanks. They had to be conservative, using much of their waste water to water lawns and shrubbery. Laundry soap was pure with no chemicals, which helped to feed the soil, not contaminate it.

Prior to 1945, the Phoenix City Limits were McDowell to the South and the Grand Canal to the West of us. Annexation was on a piecemeal basis as new tracts of land were developed. Part of our area East of the Grand Canal from 16th Street to 22nd Street was annexed in February 1953 and east of 22nd Street to 32nd Street in April 1955. Becoming a part of the City of Phoenix made life much easier for our residents. We now had Police and Fire protection and City services such as water and sewers. The City proceeded to install new streets and sidewalks, improved the existing ones and put in street lights. Telephone lines were installed with ten-party lines.

Salt River Valley Water Users put in the main irrigation system, but residents had to dig their own ditches. Neighbors got together and hired a digger with a ditch digging machine. Salt River gave each resident a $10.00 certificate to get irrigation.

Loma Linda School opened in 1949 as Liberty School. There were classrooms for children First thru Fourth grades, using a metal Quonset hut. Other children attended William T Machan School at 22nd Street below Thomas. Building continued and more and more classrooms were added until Loma Linda could offer instruction to children First thru Eighth grades. The first Eighth Grade graduating class was in 1955.

Everyone lived as good neighbors, sharing their happiness and sorrows and helping one another. You did not need to lock your doors; in fact the milkman would put the bottles of milk on the kitchen table or in your refrigerator. If the mailman had a package, he would put it inside the door. There was no fear of intruders. Folks enjoyed potluck dinners and block parties with their neighbors and also social gatherings at the Loma Linda School.

Hello Fellow Neighbors!

My name is Kevin Flanagan. Starting this fall, the Loma Linda Neighborhood Association newsletter may be changing to bi-annual issues; this will save us time, printing costs, and make it possible to expand to 12 pages with more relevant articles, but also enable us to use a delivery service to distribute copies to every home in the area. We will not service apartments or places with controlled access.

To compensate, we are excited to be focusing more heavily on a digital footprint at Lomalindaneighborhoodassociation.com and on Nextdoor app. MAC has asked me to help with this online presence, and I am happy to do so. We would love to hear any ideas you may have while transitioning in this direction and welcome your feedback and suggestions!
